

HOOVER WINS FARM STATES

LOS ANGELES' VISIT HERE CALLED OFF

Today

George Harvey, Good Friend.
To California $50.
Carefree Wall Street.
Pray Here, Also.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review.]

GEORGE HARVEY is dead. He was a good newspaper man, a good friend,
a mild enemy.
His life satisfied him from the early days at Peacham, Vt., where he wore his little velvet suit, trimmed with heavy braid, to the day when President Harding sent him as ambassador to London.

Joseph Pulitzer first discovered his ability and made him managing editor of his newspaper. Harvey had power to persuade and lead other men.

BREAKING the record from the Pacific to the Atlantic in 18 hours and 58 minutes, Goebel used 360 gallons of gasoline and 20 gallons of oil. The trip for himself and Harry Tucker, his passenger and backer, cost about $100, or $50 a passenger. The trip was made well inside of one day, instead of taking two nights, as by train.

THAT should make railroad owners think, as many as do think.

British railroads are bothered by motor bus competition, compelling the roads to cut rates. They have no
3,000-mile stretches there.

What do you think flying machines will do to transcontinental passenger traffic?

WALL STREET evidently isn't expecting trouble, no matter who wins the election.

The banks called $30,000,000 of loans Tuesday and money was lent at 7 1/2 per cent, which is usury in self-respecting states.

Nevertheless, prices went up, and they show signs of continuing to go up.

Don't let this encourage you to gamble, but let it save you from the supreme folly, which is selling this country short.

WHEN the Kellogg "anti-war treaty" is signed peace prayers will be offered in the British churches, with general thanksgiving.

A few prayers might be said here also. Europe likes the Kellogg treaty, because it believes that treaty will tie up the United States with the league of nations.

If you do any praying about the treaty, pray that it may not drag us into Europe's affairs or make us once more act as Europe's paymaster.

ONE concern wants to install radio stock tickers on ocean steamships.
Reuters, a great European news agency,
says, "No, you mustn't."

Reuters is mistaken. In the middle of the ocean, especially, a man with a load of stocks wants to know what is happening to them.

THE brother of Jerome, partner of William Traversa, once left New York in the old slow days. When he reached Rome he was ruined, thanks to the market.

While the stock market was ruining him on his way across the ocean, it was making him, is the grandfather of Churchill, who now runs Britain's finances.

Daughters inherit the genius of their fathers. Lady Randolph Churchill inherited the genius of old Jerome, and she handed it on to her son, nephew of the Duke of Marlborough.

WHERE "the mountains look on Marathon, and Marathon looks on the sea," Byron, writing there an hour alone, dreamed that Greece might still be free. Greece is free, at least free of kings, and the Hohenzollern blood, and apparently will remain free for a while. Venizelos, who represents the Greek desire for freedom,

THIEVES ENTER GAS STATIONS

Midway Station Looted
for Fourteenth Time,
Owner Says.

Prying open windows of two East Liverpool service stations, petty thieves last night escaped with small quantities of merchandise, according to police report.

Loot taken from the Harry Reed station in Pennsylvania and Harker avenues included, old coins, three cartons of tobacco, and tube patching.

Midway Oil company's station in the River road was looted of quantity of oil in gallon cans, tube patching, and a flashlight. George Farrell, one of the owners of the station, told police that last night's robbery was the fourteenth in three years.

Captain Mason Conley investigated
both robberies.

COMMANDER OF BLIMP CANCELS TRIP BECAUSE OF BAD STORMS

Puritan, Goodyear Craft,
Also Postpones
Trip.

PLANES ARRIVE

Chamber Filed Request
That Bag Come Here
Later.

Because of bad storms sweeping the Atlantic seaboard today, proposed visit of the giant dirigible, Los Angeles, to East Liverpool and Uniontown, Pa., today, was cancelled by the war department early this morning.

Commander's Statement.
"Reports from the weather bureau in Washington indicate that it would not be advisable for the Los Angeles to leave the hangar," said Commander Rosendahl of the huge airship in news dispatches from Lakehurst, N.
J., this morning.

The message was received at about 9:30 o'clock just as the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce were going ahead with plans for taking care of a monster crowd which was expected to visit the Madison township airport where the ship was to remain for about two hours this afternoon after circling over the city.

Thousands of people who have never yet witnessed the giant blimp were disappointed over the cancellation.
Baby blimp, Puritan, of Akron, also cancelled its proposed trip here as assort of the Los Angeles when the big ship's visit was called off by Commander Rosendahl, chief of the "silver whale."

Two passenger-carrying planes will be on duty at the local airport in Madison township all day.

Shortly after Dollar Day throngs were disappointed to learn that the blimp would not come here. Chamber of Commerce officials wired Congressman Frank Murphy asking him to request the war department to permit the 656-foot bag to pay the Ceramic
City airport as soon as possible in the future.

Puritan, which was to have met the Los Angeles in Pittsburgh, will leave tomorrow morning on a flight to Canada, Goodyear officials advised Chamber of Commerce officers.

KILLED PLAYING WITH REVOLVER

LIMA, O., Aug. 23.—Because a toy gun was not realistic enough in the "wild-west" game he was playing, Sylvester Brown, 11, obtained his father's 22 calibre rifle and as a result, his 15-year-old brother, Mathias, was dead at Ottawa near here today.

The boys had been playing with a toy gun. Tiring of the sham gun, Sylvester procured the "unloaded" weapon, pointed it at Mathias and pulled the trigger.

Mathias dropped with a bullet just below his heart and died a few minutes later.

Coroner P. D. Bikel of Pandora rendered a verdict of accidental death.

SHIELDS WINNER OF JUDICIAL RACE

CANTON, O., Aug. 23.—Judge Robert
S. Shields of Canton, won the Democratic nomination for Judge of the court of appeals of this appellate district, with a margin of 235 votes over William F. Garver, of Millersburg, a final, official tabulation of the primary vote, announced today.

It was one of the closest judicial races in this district in history. The vote was as follows: Shields, 10,157;
Garver, 9,921; Frank N. Switzer,
Canton, 8,781; J. L. Mason, 5,710.

CLEVELAND DRUG STORE LOOTED

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23.—Police here today were seeking robbers who last night escaped with about $5,000 worth of merchandise from the Marshall Drug company warehouse after handcuffing, binding and gagging the watchman, William Day. Day said the leader of the band gained his confidence by posing as a policeman and stopping to chat with him on several evenings recently, and that he was thus unaware of his purpose when the man approached him last night.

'BUTCHER BOY' FACES MURDER CHARGE TODAY

Charged With Slaying of Los Angeles Society
Matron.

DENIES CRIME

Husband Discovers Body of Wife in Bedroom.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 23.—A strange romance of a poor but good looking butcher boy and his wealthy,
but somewhat older, benefactress,
whose husband suspected nothing, was to be unfolded here today at a trial of Leo P. Kelley, accused of the brutal murder of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus, beautiful society matron.

Mrs. Mellus, wife of Frank Mellus, prominent sportsman, was found dead,
her scantily attired body sprawled across the bed of her silk-draped boudoir in her fashionable Wilshire home on the evening of Aug. 5.

Disheveled and stupefied, Kelley was discovered several hours later hiding in a clothes closet of the housemaid's room on the floor below Mrs. Mellus' bed chamber.

Returning from a fishing trip, the husband came upon the gruesome discovery when he climbed through a lower floor window of the locked house shortly after 5 o'clock in the afternoon. He had forgotten his keys.
Investigators, searching through the house, uncovered the remains of what had apparently been a "love breakfast."

Kelley later admitted having breakfasted with Mrs. Mellus that morning.
According to his admission to police,
the breakfast, consisting of coffee and liquor, had been served in the kitchenette by Maggie Felis, negro maid in Mellus employ.

"DOLLAR DAY" BRINGS CROWDS

Thousands of Shoppers Mill Streets and Stores.

Thousands of shoppers milled through the streets of East Liverpool's mercantile district and jammed stores of every kind today while scores of extra salespeople frantically attempted to stem the tide of Dollar Day bargain hunters.

Automobile parking space in the downtown section of the city was at a premium as hundreds of machines added their loads of shoppers to the constant stream of buyers arriving by street car from residence districts and surrounding communities.

Merchants, who for several weeks have worked ceaselessly with this major sales day in mind, declared that sales records would be established when the final dollar is run up tonight.

Flags raised in front of downtown stores in honor of the scheduled arrival of the big blimp from Lakehurst, N. J., added holiday color to the thrilled streets of the city.

Restaurant owners reported larger crowds than they could handle when the thousands of bargain hunters attempted to find their noon luncheons.

Curtis Raps Tariff Stand of Democrats

Republican Vice-presidential Candidate Opens G. O. P. Drive to Win East at Providence, R. I.

ROCKY POINT, R. I., Aug. 23.—With a declaration that the Democratic party never placed a tariff law on the statute books which did not injure honest business, Senator Charles Curtis, Republican vice-presidential nominee, today opened the Republican drive to win the east.

Coupled with his assault on the Democratic tariff record was a recitation of the accomplishments of the Republican party in economically managing the country's affairs and reducing the public debt in the last eight years.

The vice-presidential candidate's speech was delivered to a conference of Rhode Island Republicans, called in this resort town to map out plans for the fall campaign.

"Republicans may safely go to the people on their record of the last eight years," Senator Curtis said, in his plea for the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

He traced the Democratic declarations on the tariff as written into their national platforms since 1892 and said that this record was sufficient to convince protectionists that their hope lay in the opposition party.

ENGINEER KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 23.—
Engineer William Richardson of Minneapolis was killed, his fireman badly scalded and seven passengers injured, when passenger train No. 510 on the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, traveling 50 miles an hour, collided with a helper engine on the Omaha Railroad at Stillwater Junction, Minn., today. The passenger engine overturned in a ditch. None of the nine cars of the train left the tracks.

The passenger train was enroute from Minneapolis to Chicago.

FOUR BANDITS ROB PAYMASTER

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Four boy bandits swooped down upon the garage of the Surface Transportation company in the Bronx, today, held up the paymaster and escaped with $18,- 000.

Pursued by employees of the garage
as they dashed away in a large sedan
the bandits opened fire on their trailster avenue, Buffalo, were killed in an automobile accident on the main Cleveland-Buffalo highway west of here early today, while returning to Ashabula from Geneva, O.

Whitney was the son of Capt. E. O.
Whitney, superintendent of the Pickands-Mather dock interests here. Johnston was first mate on the steamer,

PROHIBITION MAJOR ISSUE OF CAMPAIGN

Smith's Declaration

DEMOCRATS ASREE

Fess Declares Voters
Will Repudiate 'Wet' Stand.

By Kenneth Clark.
Albany, N. Y., Aug. 23.—The 1928 convention, followed by the acceptance speeches of both candidates out of the way, the major issues are sharply defined and the battle lines are drawn.

Washington political leaders agreed today that Gov. Al Smith's appeal for state control of liquor, as opposed to Herbert Hoover's stand on the dry side, has made prohibition perhaps the major issue of the election. While the candidates were also sharply divided on other problems, the politicians foresaw prohibition as the issue which would transcend party lines in numerous sections and arouse the most heated discussions.

Even dry leaders, who are as far apart as the poles with Smith on his plan to solve the wet and dry question, declared that the governor had presented in his acceptance speech a frank and candid proposal on the subject.

"In the main it has the commendable feature of frankness which relieves the people from uncertainty of his meaning," said Senator Fess (R) of Ohio.

A dry leader in his own party, Senator George of Georgia, who contested for the Democratic nomination at Houston, declared:

ing.

Seeing Miss Smith going down, Wolfe swam to her rescue. She was attended by a Lisbon physician and later removed to the home of her sister, Mrs. Snyder of West Point.

G. O. P. NOMINEE TIGHTENS HOLD ON GRAIN BELT LEADERS CLAIM

Nye's Endorsement Means Victory in Two Dakotas.

HEARS AL SMITH

Senator Brookhart, Insurgent, Takes Stump for Secretary.

By William K. Hutchinson.
CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug.
23.—Although prohibition has plunged into the national spotlight as the major issue of the coming presidential election, Herbert Hoover today continued to strengthen his hold on the grain belt through conferences here with farm leaders from the fourteen mid-western states.

Makes Hit With Farmers.

The Republican nominee explained his farm relief program to agriculturalists from Missouri, Oklahoma, Nebrska, Kansas, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Tennessee. He discussed in detail his plan for a federal farm board and told the farmers he favored arming the proposed board "with wide authority and ample resources to deal with all phases of farming and aiding it with all agencies of the government as a means of bringing about general economic stability in the farming industry."

Hoover made a decided hit with the farm leaders. They came away convinced of the sincerity of his purpose to attempt a solution of the farm problem. They said frankly that they expected him to succeed, in view of his success with other important economic and engineering problems.

The nominee won one outstanding convert since coming to Iowa, when he was endorsed by Senator Gerald
P. Nye, North Dakota insurgent.
Nye's endorsement virtually insured a victory for Hoover in the next November.

Nye, silent since the E convention, followed the of Senator Smith W. Brookhart, the insurgent, who took the stump here for Hoover. This was an interesting development, too, as Brookhart was expected by his party in the senate a few years ago, for supporting the late Senator Robert M. La Follette in the 1924 campaign.

The farm leaders were received by Hoover at "Brucemore," the estate of Mrs. George B. Douglas, where he spent the night with his family and a few friends. He walked out on the spacious lawn to talk with them and he allowed them to question him with the frankness of a senate debate. He enjoyed the discussions as much as his visitors.

Hoover heard the acceptance speech of his Democratic rival, Governor Alfred E. Smith, over the radio at "Brucemore" last night. A storm in eastern Iowa created too much static that the reception was very poor and Hoover missed parts of the speech.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES AT FAIRMONT

Funeral services for Miss Martha Alice Fleming, former resident of East Liverpool, who died yesterday in the home of her brother, A. H. Fleming, at Fairmont, W. Va., will be held in the home tomorrow afternoon in charge of the Rev. T. Leroy Hooper, pastor of the Fairmont Methodist Protestant church, assisted by the Rev.
H. G. Stetzer, D. D. Burial will be made in Fleming cemetery.

TEN CHINESE ARE MURDERED

California Poses Search
For Alleged Slayer.

FAIRFIELD, Cal., Aug. 23.—Clubbed, shot and hacked to death, the bodies of ten Chinese were held in the morgue here today while possession searched the territory between here and Sacramento for their slayer, described as a pock-marked Chinese, apparently about 32 years old. He was known in the colony as Leung Hing.

The motive of the crime has not yet been determined, whether the slayer was actuated by revenge or acted as the hired murderer in a long war or an opium feud. Another theory advanced was that the slayer suddenly became demented and began his butchery in an insane frenzy.

Six of the dead belong to the family of Wong Gee, who was also murdered. Wong Gee was the leader of the Chinese colony on the Bryan ranch, six miles from here.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Strong leadership in the forward movement of prices was furnished at the beginning of trading today by General Motors and United States Steel, which pushed upward aggressively in heavy trading, while many of the industrials were under profit-taking. Chrysler Motor also displayed conspicuous strength, advancing three points to above 97 in the first period. A few new specialties, including Loft and Armour, A. were whirled around vigorously at the start of the session.

The July production records and indices of the principal statistical agencies showed good gains as compared with the same month in the last two years. The call loan rate was unchanged at 7 per cent and little comment on money market matters was obtainable in responsible banking quarters. Issuance of Governor Smith's acceptance speech finally removed any apprehension as to the possibility of a harmful contest on revolutionary economic measures.

The market absorbed profit-taking in good volume in the first hour without blocking effectively the advance in the market favorites. Stocks of the packing industry and the motion picture companies continued to attract considerable attention by their aggressive market movements. American Smelting, at the head of the coppers, continued its sensational rise to above 224, completing a gain of 50 points on the movement. Independent steels, rails and utilities were again on the inactive list, and price changes here were narrow.

Cotton sold about 10 points higher and grain prices were also fractionally higher in the early trading. Cotton exchange members are seeking to extend their business by trading in wool futures and establishing a 50-cent contract in addition to the 100-bale now in effect.

One Woman in Hospital Lone Survivor of Crash.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23. — Lester Vanderwerf, prominent Cleveland business man, today was enroute by train to Three Rivers, Canada, to take charge of the bodies of his two children, his wife, and her parents, all of whom were killed yesterday in a grade crossing crash near Yamachiche, Quebec.

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain. How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating! This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Wherein Pet Ideas are Upset

The average man or woman will find in a statistical study of motor vehicle accidents in Cincinnati, recently completed by Richard Shelton Kirby, of the department of civil engineering at Yale, much which will upset many pet preconceptions.

There is a generally prevalent opinion that poor road surfaces, improper road topography, bad weather and darkness are to blame for a large number of automobile accidents. But the tables of the Kirby report show that more than two-thirds of the 26,832 accidents in Connecticut last year happened on good road surfaces, nearly two-thirds of them in daylight, and more than three-quarters of them in good weather.

Another interesting point disclosed is that more than a third of these accidents happened on unobstructed straightaways, where there were no intersections, crossings, hills or curves entering the picture. And almost half of this large number of accidents happened on absolutely level roadways.

Nor, as might be supposed, were June and July the worst months in the year for these accidents. September and November had the largest number of fatalities, of which Connecticut had 356 in 1927. And about a sixth of these lives were lost in the late evening or early morning.

Speeding did not cause more of the accidents than any other one factor, although the opinion is prevalent that high rates of speed everywhere are responsible for majority of all highway mishaps.

One imagines that, generally speaking, pedestrians figure in a large proportion of motor accidents, but last year they were factors in only about one-eighth of the accidents that happened in Connecticut, which very likely can be appropriately taken as an average state.

Just such a study as this should be undertaken in all other states if there is to be any radical reduction in the shocking number of automobile accidents which are disgracing the nation. An intelligent study of all the factors entering into motor vehicle mishaps is necessary to any effective crusade for their elimination.

Industrial Accidents Decrease

A decrease in industrial accidents in Ohio, slight as it may be, is reported by the state department of industrial relations. This decrease is shown for the first six months of the current year.

In 1926 there were 553 fatalities for the first half of the year. In 1927 there were 477 fatalities for the corresponding period. In 1928 there were 520 fatalities up to July 1.

The persistency of accident occurrence in Ohio industries challenges the best efforts of employers and employees in bringing about more effective accident prevention work in every plant in the state. Despite every effort that is made to minimize industrial accidents, they continue to happen.

In view of the precautionary measures which have been adopted in industry to guard against accidents it cannot be said that carelessness is entirely responsible for the large total of industrial fatalities. Neither can it be said that the employer is to blame for these accidents any more than the employees are to be held entirely responsible.

Accidents are something which are constantly happening. Despite the most rigid safeguards, despite the constantly alert man or woman, an accident will happen. And it is difficult to fix the responsibility. They happen so quickly that observers trained to watch for culpability are at a loss to fix it.

About all that can be done as a further safeguard against accidents or fatalities in industry is to increase the vigilance of the workers, and increase the safeguards which employers throw about them. Couple this with workers trained in accident prevention through foremen schooled in this sort of thing, and the number of accidents ought to be lessened.

Million And A Half in Ohio Schools

Virtually a fourth of Ohio's population spends its working day behind a school desk in the 10,518 schools, colleges and universities of the state. Statistics just compiled by the state department of education show that more than 1,500,000 boys and girls from kindergarten to college are enrolled in Ohio's schools.

Nothing short of an army of teachers, professors and administrators are required to educate these youths, 46,564 teachers being required for the state's public day schools, parochial institutions and night schools. With Ohio's estimated population set at 6,710,000 in 1917, 1,503,796 of that number were between the ages of 5 and 17, recognized as school age, and 1,459,711 were enrolled in a public day school, night school or parochial institution.

These figures are of the utmost importance to everyone. They give a very clear index into the character of the people of Ohio. From them it is a simple matter to understand why it is Ohio is such a thriving state—why there are so many successful men and women, so many successful industries, so many savings bank accounts and so many automobiles, home-owners and the like. Where is a lack of education, and a lack of educational facilities, the people still retain much of their primitiveness.

The Peril of Eating

Dr. John T. Buckley of the University of Southern California says people's physical ailments are caused mostly by over-indulgence in food and drink, anger, worry and lack of personal hygiene.

He corroborates the dictum of the late Chauncey Depew, that "most people dig their graves with their teeth." He suggests a "constitutional amendment restricting people's eating."

It would be hard to get, though, and still harder to enforce.

The nearest fixed star is said to be 3,000,000,000 miles away, and the world is something like 500,000,000 years old, and all of these figures sound just about alike and have the same connection with real life.

All the world loves a sheik.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 23.—There is a possibility that polo history in this country is about to lose one of its legends and take on a new chapter. Whereas, there has never been an army officer among the envied four who make up the team that plays in the international games, it appears quite likely that there will be at least one chosen this year and perhaps two.

Captain E. C. Wilkinson is contending against W. A. Harriman for number one position and Captain P. P. Rhodes against Robert Frawbridge and Winston Guest for number four. Tommy Hitchcock and Malcolm Stevenson, civilians, retain their positions without a struggle. The team will have the honor of representing the United States at the polo matches to be held in September at Meadowbrook with Argentine opponents. These games, two surely will be played for the victors must gain two out of three, are attracting much attention among polo enthusiasts because three ten goal men will participate. Since there are only four men in the world, one of them being the retired Devereux Milburn, with this handicap, it might be claimed that this would be the world's greatest match. The American team has the advantage, the men playing number two and three being in this class, while Louis Lacey, captain of the Argentine team is the third player with the top-notch handicap.

Being a ten goal man can be interpreted literally, for it means that a player with such a handicap must allow ten goals to the other team. In other words, his team must make eleven goals to their one in order to win. The system works out so that teams with approximate handicaps meet. For instance four players with the aggregate handicap of thirty or thirty-two usually play rivals with a similar aggregate.

The register of the United States Polo association shows many players with no handicaps, and numbers with those of one, two, and three, the last two classes meaning five or six years of playing. In international polo matches, the handicaps are disregarded and the players start from scratch, free and equal.

More than the ability and skill of the players enters into the judges' selection for international play, because like the battle which was lost for want of a nail, a polo match can be lost for the lack of a good pony. An excellent player must have an excellent mount. Indeed several mounts. Consequently, the defense committee of the United States Polo association must judge ponies as well as their riders when they decide who shall play in September.

Although polo was not originally an American game and has usually been considered a sport only for rich men, the records show that America is winning the greatest victories and that many more sportsmen are playing. By virtue of winning the International tournament held with England every three years, the United States has been the scene of those thrilling games the last two times, for to the victor goes the place of holding the subsequent contest. The team representing this country won in England in 1921 bringing the following match here. Winning in 1924 and 1927 keeps the tournament here until 1930 when the next games will be played.

According to the secretary of the Army Polo association, Major Willis D. Crittenden, the increasing popularity of polo has been influenced by the participation of army men. This is not because more than thousand officers are registered on the books of the United States association, but because it is noticeable that civilian teams flourish near army posts. In their vicinity sportsmen become interested and stimulated to get up their own teams.

The great drawback to polo has always been its great expense, for only a rich man can afford to purchase, not to mention maintain, the necessary properly-bred ponies. To meet this situation some clubs, or cities, or individuals have financed teams which an excellent player can make by his merits as a galloping, swatting wonder.

This phase of the game has been both a handicap and an asset to army players. An asset because they can get horses to ride a handicap because they can get only the regular army ones which, of course, are not the three or four thousand dollar ponies used by wealthy players. To meet the needs of the army teams which prove their merits by piling up victories, the finest remounts which would be suitable for the sport are set aside and trained.

The different classes of tournaments in which the polo players of this country participate are pyramided up to the peak which is the international one played between England and the United States every three years. Unlike the American team which has always been composed of civilians, although an army officer was named as substitute in 1927, the English team is almost always made up of military men.

The country has been divided into eight circuits for the next class of tournament, known as the Inter-circuit Championship. Winners in each of these sections play off for the championship of the entire circuit. Army teams won in '25 and '26. A civilian team from Ohio won last year.

At the base of the pyramid is the annual tournament for the twelve goal teams. To be eligible to this one, it is not necessary to be winners in local circuits. Army teams have won in this class for the last three years.

Turning Back Pages of Memory

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 23.—There is a possibility that polo history in this country is about to lose one of its legends and take on a new chapter. Whereas, there has never been an army officer among the envied four who make up the team that plays in the international games, it appears quite likely that there will be at least one chosen this year and perhaps two.

Captain E. C. Wilkinson is contending against W. A. Harriman for number one position and Captain P. P. Rhodes against Robert Frawbridge and Winston Guest for number four. Tommy Hitchcock and Malcolm Stevenson, civilians, retain their positions without a struggle. The team will have the honor of representing the United States at the polo matches to be held in September at Meadowbrook with Argentine opponents. These games, two surely will be played for the victors must gain two out of three, are attracting much attention among polo enthusiasts because three ten goal men will participate. Since there are only four men in the world, one of them being the retired Devereux Milburn, with this handicap, it might be claimed that this would be the world's greatest match. The American team has the advantage, the men playing number two and three being in this class, while Louis Lacey, captain of the Argentine team is the third player with the top-notch handicap.

Being a ten goal man can be interpreted literally, for it means that a player with such a handicap must allow ten goals to the other team. In other words, his team must make eleven goals to their one in order to win. The system works out so that teams with approximate handicaps meet. For instance four players with the aggregate handicap of thirty or thirty-two usually play rivals with a similar aggregate.

The register of the United States Polo association shows many players with no handicaps, and numbers with those of one, two, and three, the last two classes meaning five or six years of playing. In international polo matches, the handicaps are disregarded and the players start from scratch, free and equal.

More than the ability and skill of the players enters into the judges' selection for international play, because like the battle which was lost for want of a nail, a polo match can be lost for the lack of a good pony. An excellent player must have an excellent mount. Indeed several mounts. Consequently, the defense committee of the United States Polo association must judge ponies as well as their riders when they decide who shall play in September.

Although polo was not originally an American game and has usually been considered a sport only for rich men, the records show that America is winning the greatest victories and that many more sportsmen are playing. By virtue of winning the International tournament held with England every three years, the United States has been the scene of those thrilling games the last two times, for to the victor goes the place of holding the subsequent contest. The team representing this country won in England in 1921 bringing the following match here. Winning in 1924 and 1927 keeps the tournament here until 1930 when the next games will be played.

According to the secretary of the Army Polo association, Major Willis D. Crittenden, the increasing popularity of polo has been influenced by the participation of army men. This is not because more than thousand officers are registered on the books of the United States association, but because it is noticeable that civilian teams flourish near army posts. In their vicinity sportsmen become interested and stimulated to get up their own teams.

The great drawback to polo has always been its great expense, for only a rich man can afford to purchase, not to mention maintain, the necessary properly-bred ponies. To meet this situation some clubs, or cities, or individuals have financed teams which an excellent player can make by his merits as a galloping, swatting wonder.

This phase of the game has been both a handicap and an asset to army players. An asset because they can get horses to ride a handicap because they can get only the regular army ones which, of course, are not the three or four thousand dollar ponies used by wealthy players. To meet the needs of the army teams which prove their merits by piling up victories, the finest remounts which would be suitable for the sport are set aside and trained.

The different classes of tournaments in which the polo players of this country participate are pyramided up to the peak which is the international one played between England and the United States every three years. Unlike the American team which has always been composed of civilians, although an army officer was named as substitute in 1927, the English team is almost always made up of military men.

The country has been divided into eight circuits for the next class of tournament, known as the Inter-circuit Championship. Winners in each of these sections play off for the championship of the entire circuit. Army teams won in '25 and '26. A civilian team from Ohio won last year.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—It has become a stunt this summer for members of what is known as cafe society to exploit ladies and gentlemen whose fame attracts a trifle of the notorious. They become guests of honor at the spreading restaurant tables.

One was a curly haired cabaret performer who shook the sawdust from his feet to be glorified in a musical comedy. Then there was a college bred Indian, the obscure author of a dirty book, a shaggy haired foreigner who told ribald stories and several others.

Jovial Mac West, who portrays a hard-boiled Bowery gal of 30 years ago, is also the object of much attention, being invited to teas, apartment parties and cafes. One of the high spots was to visit her dressing room after a performance and listen to her picturesque observations.

Among Miss West's experiences while struggling for recognition as a playwright and star was a brief stretch on the island because of the realism in her play, "Sex." She is said to have a hilarious as well as sarcastic style in recounting this episode. The object of cafe society is to be noticed and there seems to be no better way than to drag in someone by the heels who has achieved big thick headlines. The story of one is being told about the town.

A hostess was arranging with the proprietor of a cafe for a dinner party and dropped a few names of those who would be among the guests. The manner of the proprietor abruptly froze. "I am sorry," he said, "I cannot serve you. This is a restaurant—not a freak show."

It is in night clubs the chasers of near celebrities find dandy settings for their efforts to show off. Here the atmosphere is mellow and those who look upon soundness as perfectly dandy do so only for an evening.

Third avenue has a curiosity shop

specializing in Distinguished Service Crosses. Heroes who have fallen on evil days go there to pawn the symbol of their courage in better days. They receive about $3 for their cross and few ever return to reclaim them. This furnishes a theme for something or other. I don't know just what.

People living in the neighborhood of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in West 54th street, are said to set clocks by his methodical goings and comings. He departs in the morning almost invariably at the same hour and returns with the same precision. No mid-town home has the regularity of the Rockefeller household. The lights are dimmed at the same hour—about 10:30. Young Mr. Rockefeller—he is really 54—has a passion for household economy. Any extravagance by servants is tabooed. For years he never tipped, but now he gives the exact but customary 10 per cent. He is pleasant neighbor, having a bow for servants in nearby households and frequently stops to chat with the street cleaner in the block.

The Rockefeller home while ample is not movie-stellarish. It is of stone and has a gymnasium on the roof. After nightfall it is not distinguished from any other house on the block save for a man in plain clothes who walks up and down in front of the house. He is the private night watch.

New York now has 30 plants turning out airplanes and accessories in the metropolitan area. There are reported to be 700 privately owned planes in the city.

Overheard near 47th and Broadway: "How did the act go?" "If it hadn't been for the curtain going up and down, you'd never know we were on."

Life is a good deal like that for many of us. Copyright, 1928, by the MNaught Syndicate, Inc.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

I asked a young farmer friend of mine about his baby. "He has the sprue," he replied. This is the name commonly given in the country for sore mouth of babies.

Real sprue is a disease of the tropics and of the Orient. It has inflammation and ulcers of the tongue and mouth lining. In this respect it is not unlike the symptoms of what the doctors call "aphthous sore mouth" or "stomatitis." The same word is used for the condition known to the medical profession as "thrush." This is simply another form of stomatitis. The simple type of stomatitis is met in all the age groups. In grown people there may be a single ulcer or a crop of them. These are known as cankers.

Aphthous stomatitis is recognized by the tiny swollen spots on the lining of the lips and cheeks and on the edge of the tongue. At first, they are like little blisters, but pretty soon they break, leaving small ulcers.

Thrush differs from aphthous sore mouth. Instead of the ulcers, a sort of membrane forms on the lining of the lips and cheeks and also on the roof of the mouth. They are slightly raised above the surface and in color nearly white. It is possible to scrape off the membrane which cannot be done in aphthous stomatitis.

All the disturbances of the mouth and tongue are due primarily to uncleanliness or to wrong feeding. They are rare in well-developed and usually healthy babies. On this account, poorly nourished and debilitated children are more liable to attack.

Prevention is better than cure in respect to all human ills. But it is doubly true of what we may call the digestive ailments of children. Nineteen-tenths of the disabilities of babies can be traced to neglect of the simple precautions necessary to proper infant feeding.

Unclean spoons, unclean feeding bottles, unclean utensils used in the preparation of the feedings, uncleanliness of mother's fingers—some form of neglect is at the foundation of the trouble.

Let me say at once that this is not wilful or known neglect. Invariably it is due to lack of knowledge. Mothers are the most wonderful of God's creatures, and whenever they are taught, they will never, never overlook to apply the most studied attention to the needs of their babies.

In sore mouth, an alkaline mouth wash is useful. Limewater or a solution of bicarbonate of soda can be used. Add a teaspoonful of the soda to a glass of water. Or borax may be employed in the same proportions.

Where Britons Wrote an Epic Page

Here is the spot where Kitchener's "contemptibles" proved that Britons haven't forgotten how to die. It is the famous Grange Tunnel at Vimy Ridge, where for weeks a bloody and battered army of British and Canadians withstood the flower of the German army. The photo shows a party of veterans visiting the scene of their greatest effort.

STANDARD WARRANTY FOR PNEUMATIC CASINGS AND TUBES

"Every pneumatic tire of our manufacture bearing our name and serial number is warranted by us against defects in material and workmanship during the life of the tire to the extent that if any tire fails because of such defect, we will either repair the tire or make a reasonable allowance on the purchase of a new tire."

THIS broad warranty against tire defects, unlimited as to mileage or time, is the most constructive guarantee of service ever offered the public.

Amos C. Andrews
Director General, THE RUBBER INSTITUTE, Inc.

THE tire industry has taken great steps forward in the past decade.

Tire quality has been improved immeasurably; tire prices have been reduced to the lowest levels in history.

And now the industry has taken another great forward step.

The manufacturers of 95% of the tires made in the United States guarantee tires bearing their names and serial numbers against defects for the life of the tire.

What an improvement this is over the old days of the now out-worn "definite mileage guarantee."

The era of the mileage guarantee came to an end when users realized that good tires are made of rubber and cotton—not printed promises.

They discovered that "there are no miles in a bottle of ink."

They discovered that you cannot put mileage into tires by written guarantees—it must be built in. No mileage guarantee will hold the tread to the carcass—nothing but craftsmanship does that.

They discovered that no mileage guarantee will toughen the rubber or strengthen the cotton cord—only the know-how of experienced tire builders does that.

They discovered that no mileage guarantee will extend the life of a tire to its utmost capacity—only good driving and care for your tires does that.

On the other hand, car owners found that the definite mileage guarantee had these failings—

- 1 It benefited the driver who misused his tires and misrepresented his mileage, at the cost of the honest and careful driver who did not abuse his tires, and who was truthful in stating his mileage, or honest in admitting he did not know his mileage.
- 2 It put a premium upon heedless driving by removing the penalty for traveling with tires under-inflated or wheels out of line.
- 3 Its cost was a buried expense that bore on the user of the tires without adding any commensurate value.

The first year following the elimination of the definite mileage guarantee, over thirteen million dollars was saved, by doing away with adjustments against neglect and abuse of the careless driver, and was put back into the product for the benefit of all drivers alike.

The industry simply converted non-productive cost into good sound rubber and cotton. Every user benefited, equally; tire prices came down; tire quality went up. Today the American tire user is enjoying the lowest-cost tire miles in the history of the world.

The high quality of present day tires has made possible the prevailing standard tire warranty, extending over the life of the tire—the broadest and most constructive guarantee of service that can be written—a declaration that enables the manufacturers of over 95% of the production in the country to stand squarely behind the quality and serviceability of their products, as they wish to stand.

Cuticura Heals Head Covered With Ringworms

"My head was covered with ringworms about the size of a dime. I had a few on my face and they were very painful. They were very itchy and I used to scratch them until they would bleed. Wherever the ringworms were on my scalp my hair fell out. I could not sleep much at night on account of them."

"My mother read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and advised me to send for a free sample, which I did. I was very much pleased for it gave quick relief. I purchased more and in about two weeks I was completely healed."

Liquor Raiders Open Fire After Being Threatened.

ASHLAND, O., Aug. 23.—Threats to kill Deputy Sheriffs when they attempted to raid his home near here, today had resulted in instant death to George Frey, 70 from bullets said to have been fired by Deputy Sheriff Charles Hassinger and Tom Easterly. It is not known which deputy's bullet killed Frey.

Frey was three times Ashland county's prosecuting attorney, holding office from 1906 to 1912. According to the deputies, Frey threatened them with a shotgun yesterday morning when they went to search his home for liquor. Again in the afternoon Hassinger and Easterly went to Frey's home and again were threatened. This time the deputies opened fire.

Four other men were found in the Frey home after the shooting. They were said to have been slightly injured by the bullets, and offered no resistance to the officers after Frey fell dead.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueler pains of colic, or constipation, or diarrhoea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

SMITH FAVORS MODIFICATION OF DRY LAW

Nominee Declares for State Rights in Albany Speech.

APPEALS TO SOUTH

Texas Democratic Leader Lauds Governor's Position.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Having definitely thrust prohibition to the front in the presidential campaign by demanding a drastic change in the eighteenth amendment as well as modification of the Volstead law, Governor Al Smith today anxiously awaited the country's reaction to his acceptance speech.

That Smith, after careful thought, has decided to win or lose the presidency on the sole issue of prohibition, with a smattering of farm relief, was the opinion of virtually every Democratic leader who came here for the notification ceremony.

The first batch of messages which poured into the executive mansion last night and early today congratulated the governor on his stand on prohibition. These messages, his advisers said, came from voters in virtually every state in the union.

Confident that the south will remain Democratic despite his wet stand, Smith is said to feel that by taking a decided stand against prohibition he has a good chance of carrying a sufficient number of the normal Republican eastern states, to insure his election.

In the active campaign, which is expected to get under way shortly after Labor day, the governor will discuss all of the issues which he outlined in his acceptance speech, but always, his friends predict, he will emphasize prohibition. He will reiterate that, as president, he will rigidly enforce the prohibition law so long as it remains the law of the land, that he is unalterably opposed to the return of the saloon, but that he feels it would be his solemn duty to urge an amendment to the prohibition amendment and liberalization of the Volstead law.

The governor's plan for a fundamental change in the prohibition amendment would permit each state, if a majority of voters approved, to sell, manufacture or import alcoholic beverages. He would, however, limit the sale of such beverages to the state itself with the provision that they could not be consumed in public places.

In his campaign speeches Smith will stress the point that under this proposal, states which are really dry could continue to have prohibition while wet states could have liquor for private consumption.

The governor long has taken the attitude that the Volstead law should be modified so that each state would be permitted to fix its own standard of the alcoholic content of intoxicating beverages, but his speech in formally accepting the presidential nomination marked the first time he ever had declared for a change in the eighteenth amendment.

In the campaign the governor will take particular pains to point out for the benefit of the south and other dry states that his proposal would preserve for such states the benefit of a national law that would continue to make interstate shipment of liquor a crime. He also will stress the point that these dry states could continue to have federal enforcement of prohibition within their own borders.

Naturally when Smith campaigns in the middle western states he will deal extensively in his speeches with farm relief, but there will be no pussy-footing on his part on prohibition, even in the driest of dry states, his close friends declared today. He will tell the farmers that he favors government control of crops surpluses and assessing the cost on the unit benefited, which is the principle of the McNary-Haugen bill, but he also will tell them that if elected he will do everything within his power to bring about a change in the prohibition laws.

Announcement today by Jesse H. Jones, Democratic leader of Texas, that Governor Smith's stand on prohibition "should not be offensive to any fair-minded prohibitionist," was cheerful news for the nominee. The governor is said to feel that when his stand on the wet-dry question is really understood other advocates of prohibition will feel the same way.

"Governor Smith's views on prohibition were already well known and his program as outlined, while not acceptable to those who disagree with them, should not be offensive to any fair-minded prohibitionist for the reason that he makes clear that the president is a law enforcer and not a law maker and that he will enforce the law," Jones wrote in his statement.

Dry League Spends $663 in Primaries

Davey's Campaign Costs $4,169 While Marshall Reports Expenditures of $1,515 in Contest for U. S. Senator.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 23.—That the Ohio Anti-Saloon league campaign committee received $663 and spent it all during the recent Ohio pre-primary campaign was shown in a statement filed today with Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown by E. V. Harper, Columbus, as treasurer for this committee.

Harper said the committee received $364 from the Dayton Dry Federation and the balance from the treasurer of the league. All of the money was spent for printing, postage, telephone service and clerical help, he said. The committee supported state political candidates endorsed officially by the league.

Congressman Martin L. Davey, Kent, Democratic nominee for governor, received nothing and spent $4,169 for advertising, postage and traveling.

Director of Agriculture Charles V. Truax, Bucyrus, Democratic nominee for U. S. senator, full term, received nothing and contributed $1,000 to the Truax-for-senator committee. He, also, paid a $25 filing fee to the secretary of state. This committee received $2300 and spent $2249, according to H. W. Cone, secretary of the committee.

Miss Constance Marshall, Columbus, daughter of Chief Justice C. T. Marshall, Ohio supreme court, as assistant treasurer of the Marshall-for-senator campaign committee, reported that the committee received $2,900 and spent $1,515, leaving a balance of $1,385, in connection with her father's unsuccessful quest for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, short term.

State Representative John T. Brown, Mechanismsburg, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, full term, reported that he received nothing and spent $638.

William I. Davies, Youngstown, reported that, as treasurer of the Beggs-for-governor committee at Youngstown up to August 10, last, he received $5,275 and spent $4,632. The balance, $643, was turned over to E. R. Watkins who succeeded him as treasurer. Watkins said he received $2,765 and spent $3,357, leaving a deficit of $592.

George S. Myers, Cleveland, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, said he received nothing and spent $213.

Edgar Ervin, Columbus, unsuccessful Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, received nothing and spent $1,525.

Assistant Attorney General Grant E. Mouser, Jr., Marion, Republican nominee for congressman from the Eighth district, said he received $35 and spent $736, practically all for advertising.

Judge Phil M. Crow, Kenton, reported that he received nothing and spent $54, as a Democratic candidate for the appellate court bench in the Third district.

C. J. Anderson, Shelby, received nothing and spent $200, as a candidate for state senator.

George C. Sheffield, Fremont, reported that he received nothing and spent $359 as a candidate for congressman in the Thirteenth district.

That there was no violation of the corrupt practices act in connection with the unsuccessful candidacy of Attorney Clinton M. Boyd, Middle-town, for the Republican nomination for attorney general was indicated by an amended expense account filed today with the secretary of state by the committee which supported Boyd's campaign.

The amended statement, which itemized receipts and expenditures, showed that the committee received $5,699 from Clara Boyd and spent it all. Of this amount, Clara Boyd was credited with contributing $649 personally, the balance being contributed by various other persons.

When the original expense statement, general in its form, was received at the secretary of state's office, state election officials pointed out that Clara Boyd alone was credited with contributing the $5,699 while the Ohio corrupt practices act sought to limit campaign contributions from any individual to an amount not to exceed 10 per cent of the annual salary of the office for which the candidate supported was an applicant. The attorney general receives $6,500 a year and 10 per cent of his salary is $650.

PRIVATE YACHT IS FIRED UPON

Coast Guard Cutter Rams Millionaires Boat Near Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23.—M. F. Bramley, Cleveland millionaire, who says his yacht, the Buddy, was fired on and rammed by the government coast guard cutter, CG-2321, last night, was preparing to make a vigorous complaint to federal officials today.

The yacht, occupied by himself and a party of friends, was cruising two miles off the coast here when it was approached by the cutter, Bramley says. A shot was fired and a moment later the cutter rammed his yacht in a glancing fashion, Bramley says.

The man on the bridge of the government boat shouted, "what boat is this?" according to the millionaire's account.

"This boat is the Buddy, owned by M. F. Bramley," he says he replied. "Stop, we're coming aboard you," the man shouted back. "We're customs officers."

"You look like hi-jackers to me," Bramley says he answered. "I'm going to Rocky river. If you want to come aboard, come aboard there."

At Rocky river the yacht was searched, Bramley said. No estimate of the damage to the yacht has been made. Coast guard officials would make no statement this morning.

WILLIAM F. DONOVAN, known to five generations of Harvard men as "Pooch" Donovan, is dead of heart disease only 63 years old. Donovan liked to show fast young sprinters that he could beat them, and to show football players how they should do their work.

He is dead too early, and overdoing athletics is responsible. Don't strain your heart, you can't buy new parts.

IN SHOOTING at clay pigeons, President Coolidge brought down 24 out of 25. That went on all front pages. A presidential statement of international importance might have gone on an inside page. The country likes action.

BUTLER PRAISES SMITH SPEECH

Educator Declines to State Whom he Will Support.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Dr. Nicolas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, today lauded the acceptance speech of Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee.

"On all three paramount subjects, agriculture, foreign policy with respect to international peace and prohibition, the governor speaks with no uncertain sound," Dr. Butler declared.

Dr. Butler, a Republican, who recently set forth his opposition to the prohibition stand of Secretary Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee, declined to state which of the candidates he will vote for.

"The address of acceptance of Governor Smith is a statesmanlike document, well conceived, well phrased and admirably expressed," said the Columbia president.

OPERATORS OPPOSE PACT

Association Not Bound by Columbus Agreement They Say.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 23.—S. H. Robbins, president of the Ohio Coal Operators' association, said today that the wage agreement entered into by representatives of the Ohio United Mine Workers and a group of operators in Columbus yesterday was in no way concurred in by the association as a whole, or any of its representatives.

Operators who attended the meeting represent less than 10 percent of the coal production in Ohio, he stated. The Ohio operators' association will never again enter into a conference with the United Mine Workers, Robbins declared. The open shop plan, adopted by the association, he said, is working smoothly and as successfully as the ability to market coal will permit.

Hall refused to confirm or deny published reports of the new agreement which purported to be that the new scale would embody a provision calling for $5 per day for drivers and 70 cents per ton for cutting and loading.

He stated positively, however, that in no event would the agreement be available for publication today, which he said was the intention of miners and operators now holding state chamber sessions here ratified the proposed agreement. He indicated that the agreement would be made public tomorrow.

Prohibition Issue

"His assurance that he will ruthlessly stamp out corruption in the enforcement agencies carries conviction. He recognizes that opinion upon national prohibition cuts squarely across the two great political parties and that therefore prohibition is not an issue between the parties themselves. He has his view upon the question; he does not hesitate to express it but he recognizes the right of any Democrat to differ from his view."

On the views of both candidates on the farm problem, there was a wide variety of opinion in Washington. All hands were fairly well agreed that both Hoover and Smith had gone at the problems in the right way, by proposing conference of farm leaders and experts to bring forth some definite proposals for legislative remedies. Some of the more militant farm chiefs thought both candidates should have announced more concrete plans to aid the farmer. Others in Washington felt that neither Smith nor Hoover had offered more or less to the farmers than the other. Of course the opinion in most cases was influenced by party affiliations.

As was to be expected, the Democrats as a whole lauded Governor Smith's speech, while their Republican opponents criticized it sharply. Aside from commending Smith's frankness, Senator Foss declared the people would "repudiate" him because of his wet attitude.

Other comment follows. Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas: "The governor's statement on farm relief will meet the approval of every sincere friend of adequate farm relief. It is clear, in complete harmony with the platform, and meets the requests of farm leaders of both parties. It leaves nothing to be supplied or desired."

Wooster Slayers Plead Guilty to Murder Indictments.

WOOSTER, O., Aug. 23.—Mrs. Ruth Gilbert and Chancey Felton today had been sentenced to life imprisonment after they had been permitted to plead guilty to second degree murder in common pleas court here yesterday for the slaying of Mrs. Gilbert's husband, John Gilbert.

Mrs. Gilbert has confessed that she killed her husband while he slept in their home near Warwick Saturday, July 21. Felton admitted that he dumped the body in a ditch several miles from the home where it was found by Fred Lower, a neighbor, two days later while he was picking berries.

Mrs. Gilbert will be taken to the Marysville reformatory and Felton to the Ohio penitentiary.

"Buther Boy" Faces

The servant girl had left the house, Kelley said, leaving the couple alone. Kelley when questioned by police, said that everything happening in the Melius home after breakfast was vague in his mind but that he was positive of one thing—that he had nothing whatever to do with the murder of the woman who he professed to love.

He vaguely recalled having quarreled with Mrs. Mellus and admitted having beaten her. The last thing he said he remembered was kissing Mrs. Mellus and leaving her in her bedroom. He started downstairs, he said, and was startled to hear someone ringing the doorbell.

Trying to slip out through the rear door, Kelley said, he recognized Melius on the back porch. Kelley fixed the time as 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Then, Kelley related, he hid in the clothes closet where he later was discovered.

Mellus refuted Kelley's version, declared that he could not have returned home from his fishing trip before 5:30 p. m. The prosecution alleges that Kelley murdered Mrs. Mellus when he became enraged because Mrs. Mellus began showing indifference to her butcherboy sweetheart after their romance had lived for five years.

CLEVELAND JURIST IS MADE GODFATHER TO SMITH BABY

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23.—Common Pleas Judge Carl V. Weygand, who essayed the role of Solomon a year ago when he ruled that Miss Anastasia Smith, aged three weeks, was the child of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith thereby settling the controversy arising when the Smiths accused Fairview Park hospital officials of giving Mrs. Smith the wrong baby when she left the hospital, today had assumed a new responsibility in addition to his judicial duties—that of godfather to Anastasia.

Judge Weygand solemnly took over his new job at Anastasia's first birthday party yesterday, held in his courtroom.

Nation-wide interest was aroused a year ago when the perplexing problem was laid before Judge Weygand. He settled it with celebrity, gave the child to the Smiths and made the prediction that they would learn to love the child better than the one they believed their own.

The Smiths, proud parents, indicated that Judge Weygand's prophetic wisdom has been fulfilled when they told the judge they were glad he had ruled as he did and had long since given up the idea he had been wrong in his decision.

Judge Weygand presented Anastasia with a savings account, showing an initial deposit of $10 and the Smiths departed, beaming.

"If they wish, we can make this birthday party an annual affair," observed the judge. "Perhaps next year, we can have a birthday cake in my court room."

K. OF C. MEET COMES TO CLOSE

CLEVELAND, Aug. 23.—The 46th annual convention of the Knights of Columbus, in progress here since Sunday, formally closed today, and most of the approximately 15,000 delegates and visitors were enroute home.

With the reading of state councils' reports at the final business session this morning, the convention adjourned.

There remains, however, a day of sightseeing for those who stay over. An excursion to Cedar Point was under way this afternoon and a boat trip to Niagara Falls is planned for tonight.

Another resolution, asking an appropriation of money for the building of schools and churches for Catholic refugees in Nogales, Mexico, was referred to the supreme board of directors.

FOREST FIRES UNDER CONTROL

100,000 Acres Land Laid Waste in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—With nearly 100,000 acres of grazing and timber lands destroyed, fires, with two exceptions, were reported to be under control in California today.

The two uncontrolled fires are burning in Mendocino county. Reports from other counties said that blazes were being brought under control.

The fire in Devil canyon, which threatened to destroy the San Bernardino watershed, was reported to have been checked by the use of counter fires.

Six men were injured, one of them seriously, when a blazing tree fell across a road near Sonora while they were speeding to fight a fire in the Tuolumne river district.

MINER ATTACKS DEPUTY SHERIFFS

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Aug. 23.—Dan Miller, Negro non-union mine worker, was in jail here today and Deputy Sheriff Joseph Baker was under the care of a physician following an altercation which ensued when Baker attempted to arrest the miner for insulting two women, who were acting as union pickets at Blaine, near here.

According to witnesses, Baker intervened when Miller erided the women pickets. A furious mixup resulted during which Miller is alleged to have drawn a heavy file and stabbed the deputy, inflicting two huge gashes on Baker's arm.

Baker then resorted to a blackjack, subdued the Negro and had him lodged in the county jail.

Seventy-five non-union miners and fifty union pickets watched the struggle, believed to have been an outgrowth of the bitter feeling prevalent between union and non-union workers here. Several clashes have occurred in this vicinity recently.

Snakes Cause Many Deaths.

CALCUTTA, Aug. 22.—Snakes caused nearly 20,000 deaths in British India in 1927, according to statistics made public here. Wild animals, including tigers, leopards, wolves, elephants and crocodiles were responsible for more than 2,000 deaths.

Urging that service clubs and service organizations cooperate to support municipal projects, Joseph Smith, chairman of the welfare committee, addressed Lions' club members at a dinner-meeting in the Travelers' hotel grill room last night.

Smith spoke of needs of the local community and outlined steps taken in civic progress.

C. W. Hendershot, guest of the club, described work of the Chamber of Commerce and its value to the community. Americanization and civic committees of the club will arrange details for observation of Constitution week next month, when the organization will send patriotic speakers to schools and churches. A. I. McClain and William S. Foulks head the two committees.

GROCERS, BUTCHER TO HEAR WOMAN

CEDAR POINT, O., Aug. 23.—Mrs. William Harder, of Marion, president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, is to discuss the grocery and meat business from the standpoint of the customer before members of the Ohio Retail Grocers' and Meat Dealers' association, who are in their 29th annual convention here today.

The convention has brought together more than 1,000 Ohio grocers and meat dealers who have already made it plain, in this year's meeting, that their chief worry is the chain store. Walter Stotts, of Columbus, was elected to the board of trustees, succeeding J. V. Lortz, of Columbus, late yesterday. William Post, Toledo, and Henry Mueller, Cincinnati, were re-elected to the board.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY FAIR AT LISBON SEPTEMBER 11, 12 AND 13

Many Special Features
Arranged for This Year's Exhibit, Secretary H. E. Marsden Announces.

The 79th annual fair of the Columbiana County Agricultural society will be held Sept. 11, 12 and 13th, and according to the program so far arranged by Secretary H. E. Marsden the event will eclipse in interest the similar events in former years.

It is unusual so early in the season that all space in the large exhibition hall is contracted for before Sept. 1st, but such is the case this year. In fact, more applications for display space in this section of the county fair have been received than it is possible to accommodate. Several exhibitors have offered a premium for display space in exhibition hall.

A county grange has also contracted for display space, and while there will be no contest between grange displays, it is related that one exhibit will occupy over 100 square feet of space. This will prove to be the largest grange display ever made at any former county fair.

In a large space beneath the main exposition hall will be located the dog show. Many entries have already been listed for this section of the fair. It is considered probable that over 100 dogs will be placed on display at the fair this year.

Members of 4-H clubs of the county, backed by the County Farm bureau will have exhibits, and the list now shows that over a dozen different displays will be made by these different clubs. These will be in addition to the poultry club displays.

A pony and mule race has been carded as an added feature of the race events for the amusement of children, this being the first time such a race has been carded.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick lasting relief?
Why cutting does not remove the cause?

The Lajzlick girl, who was washing clothes on a porch 400 feet away, fell with a severe wound in her side the bullet lodging in her side. She was removed to Rochester General hospital, while the two marksmen were arrested by county detectives.

Giants Need Two Wins In Pittsburgh To Retain League Lead

Will Slip Back if They Split Double With Bucs

In That Event Standing Would be: Cards .5966; Giants .5965, Pirates Within Five Games of Leadership.

By Les Conklin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The National league race is getting to be so close these days that statisticians are forced to work in sets of four figures to determine who is leading the league. Unless the New York Giants take both ends of a double bill from Pittsburgh today, they will lose the lead to the Cardinals, who are idle this afternoon. If the Giants and the Pirates break even, the percentage standing of the two leaders will be: St. Louis .5966; New York .5965.

Both the Giants and the Cards lost yesterday, but the fifth-place Pirates won and advanced to within five games of New York. In the American league the same margin separates the New York Yankees and the Philadelphia Athletics, who took a seven-inning thriller from Cleveland yesterday while the Yanks were idle.

Chicago and Cincinnati won yesterday, so that five clubs are in the thick of the National league scramble. The slipping Cardinals have dropped six of their last seven stars. Beating St. Louis three straight was all that saved the Giants, for they lost four out of six in Cincinnati and Chicago. Five of the Cardinals' six defeats were by a margin of only one run, as was the case in most of New York's losses.

With the bases loaded and two out, outfielder Welsh of the Giants turned his ankle and fell just as he was about to catch Zitzmann's liner. Three runs came in and the Reds won, 5 to 4. The Reds got only six hits off Aldridge and Fitzsimmons while the Giants nipped Luque for nine bingles.

After pitching hitless ball for five innings, Jess Petty of Brooklyn was kayoed by three successive doubles, made by Douthitt, Frisch and Hafey of the Cardinals. Clark stopped the Cards thereafter, however, and a double and a triple by Brossier off Clarence Mitchell aided the Dodgers to gain a 3 to 2 verdict.

George Haas's homer gave the Athletics a 6 to 5 win over Cleveland in the 17th inning, the longest American league game of the season. Miljus of Cleveland and Rommel of the A's had pitched scoreless ball since the ninth inning.

After losing six straight to the Phillies, the Cubs conquered the Quakers in 12 innings, 3 to 2. Neft was the winning pitcher.

Southpaw Brame, Pittsburgh's elongated rookie, subdued Boston, 10 to 3. P. Waner and Traynor each made three hits and drove in three runs.

Detroit two-timed the Red Sox, 7 to 6 and 4 to 3, making it three straight victories over Boston by a margin of one run.

Young Ed Walsh was in good form but met a tough hombre in Gink Hadley of Washington, who blanked the White Sox 2 to 0.

Net Stars Won't Play For "Gate"

Wills, Bundy Put Feet Down on Financial Program.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 23.—It took some vigorous foot stamping by Helen Wills and Mrs. May Sutton Bundy to let the officials of the U. S. L. T. A. know that after all the women's national lawn tennis championships which were interrupted by the rain at Forest Hills yesterday were primarily designed to furnish a test of playing superiority and not for the purpose of filling the coffers of the association with gold.

Which explains why the women's championships of this year of grace will follow the east-west matches in the financial statement of the association as a "flop" because the foot stamping of the present champion and the 1904 champion was what killed the association's hopes for a big Saturday "gate" in spite of the fact that rain washed out yesterday's play. The more enthusiastic financial hounds of the association had worked up a fine plan to have a "double header" today beginning at 10 o'clock this morning and this would still have made it possible to hold the "finals" on Saturday with promise of a big "gate."

But with the foremost players in the title series refusing to go on any four-day schedule such as the double would entail, the visions of having the finals on Saturday faded and Monday was selected as the day when the deciding matches will be played, providing always, of course, that another deluge does not interfere with the program and necessitate further postponements as was the case last year.

Therefore, because of yesterday's rain and the successful rebellion of the players, today will see the same set up of matches as was planned for yesterday.

Traynor, Waner Club Braves Into Defeat

Bucs Take Final Game of Series by 10-2 Count.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 23.—The hitting of Paul Waner and Pie Traynor was the high spot of the final game of the Pittsburgh-Boston series yesterday, the Pirates making it two out of three by winning, 10 to 3.

OLD GOLD bats 1000% as Hornsby takes the Blindfold cigarette test

Rogers Hornsby... capable Manager of the Boston Braves... captain of the 1927 New York Giants... manager of the 1926 St. Louis Cardinals, who won the World's Series.

Mr. Hornsby was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing his taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked... "Which one do you like best?"

Made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant

What gives OLD GOLD this winning charm?

Here is the answer, in three words...heart-leaf tobacco. No coarse, heavy top-leaves of the tobacco plant...for they irritate the throat. No withered ground-leaves...for they are lacking in aroma. Only the cool and fragrant heart-leaves...golden ripe...can give Old Golds their honey-like smoothness. That's why you can tell them in the dark.

"They say 'there's not a cough in a carload' of Old Golds.

"But I can tell you there's a home-run hit in every cool mouthful.

"For no other cigarette, of the four leading brands in the blindfold test, could compare with Old Golds for pure pleasure to taste, tongue and throat."

Evans Triumphs As Potters Win Third Clash Of Title Series

Nick's Spud is Routed By Smashing Offensive

Easton Derricked in Second Under Deluge of Hits; Wolf Holds Foe to One Run in Role of Relief Hurler.

Crashing out 11 solid blows, averaging almost two an inning, the assortment including homers by Evans and Merchant, hammering "Happy" Easton from the hilltop in the second when they scored five runs after two men had been retired, Laughlin went out to cop the third game of the City League championship series last night at Newell, 9 to 2.

As a result of the conquest, the West Virginians own two wins to Wellsville's one and are but a game away from the 1928 pennant. Nicholson's club, on the other hand, must capture two straight to beat Dickey's crew out of the flag. That means they would have to land the Saturday engagement at Wellsville and, besides, a Monday game again of course, the Newell club is playing a mighty capable brand of baseball right now and are aiming at ending the series Saturday.

Curly Evans pitched his second straight series game for Newell and limited the first half champs to seven blows, keeping them distributed pretty well throughout the seven innings. Reese's triple and Rager's double were the only extra base blows the losers obtained from his slants. Reese died at third but Rager's two sacker drove in Wellsville's first run in the third frame.

"Yock" Huffman, right hander, was slated to twirl for the visitors last night but he failed to put in his appearance and, as a result, Easton, who had pitched Monday night against Evans, was recalled to the hilltop. In respect to the southpaw flinger, it appears like a case of the "pitcher who went to the well too often." Easton pitched practically the entire second half for Wellsville, as well as most of the latter portion of the first half when Huffman was sick or several weeks. The old southpaw soupbone has been a wonderful mainstay for Nicholson.

WOLF HOLDS POTTERS TO SINGLE RUN

WOLF, Sherwood native, former Madison Billiard hurler, signed by Nicholson during the last half, turned in a mighty respectable performance when he was called to relieve Easton in the midst of a Laughlin batting spree in the second frame.

The Potters had lined out four successive hits, one a homer by Merchant, when Easton was summoned to the bench. Evans tripled off Wolf and Bubin drew a walk, but Dugman fanned to end the inning.

Thereafter Wolf allowed two hits in the fourth, one in the fifth and another in the sixth, giving the Dickey combine but a single tally as he finished the game.

As if his pitching was an insufficient share, Evans banged out three safe drives in four trips to the plate, flying out to right field on his last batting chance.

Evans smashed out his second home run of the series in the first frame. Two men were on as he stepped.

LAUGHLIN COPS IN OPENING INNING

THE three runs Laughlin scored in the first inning proved sufficient to win the game.

After Finley had been retired at first, Watson twisted one over Reese's head at third. The ball was lost temporarily in the grass along the base line and Watson went on to second. Simcox popped out to Edwards at first. Merchant drew a walk and then Evans hit for the circuit.

Five were chalked up in the second inning. In this frame Dugman, playing the center field last night, was obliging enough to make two outs. Dugman, leading off, made the initial out on a drive to Edwards. Ranaldi flew out to middle.

With two gone, Densmore was hit by a pitched ball. Finley, Watson and Simcox singled in succession and then Merchant clouted a homer to right, followed by Evans' triple off Wolf. Bubin drew a walk but both runners were stranded when Dugman fanned. Laughlin scored its ninth run on a

VISITORS LACK TIMELY SWATTING

THE Wellsville batting attack was impotent. And Evans' support was everything that could be asked. For those reasons there were few Wellsville runs scored.

The visitors hit Evans without trouble but somebody with a Laughlin uniform was always in the way.

Lintner, hit by a pitched ball as he led off in the third, scored. Wellsville's first run on Rager's double to middle. G. Wagner singled immediately after Rager's double, a short blow through short which held Rager to third, but was caught as he at-

Bill Merchant, Newell first bagman, who crashed three homers during the regular season, contributed the fourth home run of the series when he socked one to the automobiles in right field in the second, just before Evans' triple.

The Laughlin club threatened the plate again in the fifth but failed to push one around the circuit. After Dugman flew out to left, Ranaldi connected for two bags. Mosser, who had taken Watson's place in left, Watson going to middle and Dugman leaving the game, walked. Finley flew to middle for the second out. Watson was hit by a pitched ball, filling the sacks. Simcox, however, hit to the pitcher for the third out. Simcox's blow was a hard line drive that crashed into Wolf's mitt with a resounding smack. The Wellsville hurler showed plenty of nerve in getting in front of it.

tempted to steal second, for the third out.

Successive singles in the sixth produced Wellsville's second tally.

George Wagner hit one to middle and Cal Wagner drove a hard hit ball into the same general direction. George streaked around second and third and was ruled safe when he slid to the plate as Ranaldi took the throw-in.

The Wagner brothers collected two hits apiece in their three times at the plate, or more than half the club's total blows.

District Title Tilts Planned

Season to End With "Series of Series."

The district baseball season will end in a flurry of "championship" series among all the leading aggregations in the district if present plans materialize.

Wellsville and Homer Laughlin, first and second half champs, respectively, of the City league, are now in the throes of a title series, the fourth game being scheduled for Wellsville Saturday. Laughlin has won two.

Wellsville one.

Turk Nash and K. T. K. are fighting it out for the city proper title. Each club has won one game. One of them will go into the lead when they tangle again in the third game Friday night at Columbian park.

Negotiations were completed last night for a series between Wellsville and the Service department team of the Midland league. The first game will be played Saturday, September 1, at Wellsville. The second will be played the next day, on Midland.

Joe Dickey at Laughlin is lining up a series with one of the Toronto league teams. It is understood another of the Toronto organizations is seeking a series with Chester.

In addition, Turk Nash, following its series with K. T. K., is planning to hook up with Chester. In this event, it is rumored, Chester expects to bolster its hurling staff with Mike Cebula, minor league flinger, and Turk Nash with James, new with Jeanette in the Mid-Atlantic.

Last Night's Fights.

AT CHICAGO—Tuffy Griffiths, St. Louis City light heavyweight, knocked out Tony Marollo of New Orleans, one round.

Ernie Owens, California heavyweight, knocked out Oscar Baker, of Chicago, 2 rounds.

CHAPTER 35.

As we went home, Mary Cavendish spoke bitterly against the prosecuting counsel.

"That hateful man! What a net he has drawn around my poor John! How he twisted every little fact until he made it seem what it wasn't!"

"Well," I said consolingly, "it will be the other way about to-morrow."

"Yes," she said meditatively; then suddenly dropped her voice. "Mr. Hastings, you do not think—surely it could not have been Lawrence—Oh, no, that could not be!"

"But I myself was puzzled, and as soon as I was alone with Poirot I asked him what he thought Sir Ernest was driving at."

"Ah!" said Poirot appreciatively. "He is a clever man, that Sir Ernest."

"Do you think he believes Lawrence guilty?"

"I do not think he believes or cares anything! No, what he is trying for is to create such confusion in the minds of the jury that they are divided in their opinion as to which brother did it. He is endeavouring to make out that there is quite as much evidence against Lawrence as against John—and I am not at all sure that he will not succeed."

Detective-inspector Japp was the first witness called when the trial was reopened, and gave his evidence succinctly and briefly. After relating the earlier events, he proceeded:

"Acting on information received, Superintendent Summerhayes and myself searched the prisoner's room, during his temporary absence from the house. In his chest of drawers, hidden beneath some underclothing, we found: first, a pair of gold-rimmed pince-nez similar to those worn by Mr. Inglethorpe—these were exhibited—secondly, this phial."

The phial was that already recognized by the chemist's assistant, a tiny bottle of blue glass, containing a few grains of a white crystalline powder, and labelled: "Strychnine Hydrochloride. POISON."

A fresh piece of evidence discovered by the detective since the police court proceedings was a long, almost new piece of blotting-paper. It had been found in Mrs. Inglethorpe's cheque book, and on being reversed at a mirror, showed clearly the words: "... everything of which I die possessed I leave to my beloved husband Alfred Ing. ..." This placed beyond question the fact that the destroyed will had been in favour of the deceased lady's husband. Japp then produced the charred fragment of paper recovered from the grate, and this, with the discovery of the bread in the attic, completed his evidence.

But Sir Ernest's cross-examination was yet to come. "What day was it when you searched the prisoner's room?"

"Tuesday, the 24th of July."

"Exactly a week after the tragedy?"

"Yes."

"You found these two objects, you say in the chest of drawers. Was the drawer unlocked?"

"Yes."

Does it not strike you as unlikely that a man who had committed a crime should keep the evidence of it in an unlocked drawer for anyone to find?"

"He might have stowed them there in a hurry."

"But you have just said it was a whole week since the crime. He would have had ample time to remove them and destroy them."

"Perhaps."

"There is no perhaps about it. Would he, or would he not, have had plenty of time to remove and destroy them?"

"Yes."

"Was the pile of underclothes under which the things were hidden heavy or light?"

"Heavyish."

"In other words, it was winter underclothing. Obviously, the prisoner would not be likely to go to that drawer?"

"Perhaps not."

"Kindly answer my question. Would the prisoner, in the hottest week of a hot summer, be likely to go to a drawer containing winter underclothing. Yes, or no?"

"No."

"In that case, is it not possible that the articles in question might have been put there by a third person, and that the prisoner was quite unaware of their presence?"

"I should not think it likely."

"But it is possible?"

"Yes."

"That is all."

More evidence followed. Evidence as to the financial difficulties in which the prisoner had found himself at the end of July. Evidence as to his intrigue with Mrs. Raikes—poor Mary, that must have been bitter hearing for a woman of her pride. Evelyn Howard had been right in her facts, though her animosity against Alfred Inglethorpe had caused her to jump to the conclusion that he was the person concerned.

Lawrence Cavendish was then put into the box. In a low voice, in answer to Mr. Philip's questions, he denied having ordered anything from Parkson's in June. In fact, on June 29th, he had been staying away, in Wales.

Instantly, Sir Ernest's chin was shooting pugnaciously forward.

"You deny having ordered a black beard from Parkson's on June 29th?"

"I do."

"Ah! In the event anything happening to your brother, who will inherit Styles Court?"

The brutality of the question called a flush to Lawrence's pale face. The judge gave vent to a faint murmur of disapprobation, and the prisoner in the dock leant forward angrily.

Heavywether cared nothing for his client's anger.

"Answer my question, if you please."

"If I suppose," said Lawrence quietly, "that I should."

"What do you mean by you 'suppose'? Your brother has no children. You would inherit it wouldn't you?"

"Yes."

"Ah, that's better," said Heavywether, with ferocious gentility. "And you'd inherit a good slice of money too, wouldn't you?"

"Really, Sir Ernest," protested the Judge, "these questions are not relevant."

Sir Ernest bowed, and having shot his arrow proceeded.

"On Tuesday, the 17th July, you went, I believe, with another guest, to visit the dispensary at the Red Cross Hospital in Tadminder?"

"Yes."

"Did you—while you happened to be alone for a few seconds—unlock the poison cupboard, and examine some of the bottles?"

"I—I may have done so."

"I put it to you that you did do so?"

"Yes."

Sir Ernest fairly shot the next question at him.

"Did you examine one bottle in particular?"

"No, I do not think so."

"Be careful, Mr. Cavendish. I am referring to a little bottle of Hydrochloride of Strychnine."

Lawrence was turning a sickly greenish colour.

"No—I am sure I didn't."

"Then how do you account for the fact that you left the unmistakable impress of your finger-prints on it?"

The bullying manner was highly efficacious with a nervous disposition.

"I—I suppose I must have taken up the bottle."

"I suppose so too! Did you abstract any of the contents of the bottle?"

"Certainly not."

"Then why did you take it up?"

"I once studied to be a doctor. Such things naturally interest me."

"Ah! So poisons 'naturally interest' you, do they? Still, you waited to be alone before gratifying that 'interest' of yours?"

"That was pure chance. If the others had been there, I should have done just the same."

"Still, as it happens, the others were not there?"

"No—but—"

young man dearly. We have always been the best of friends until lately when this threatened to break up our friendship. This young man seems to show no preference for either of us, for he takes us both out at once or else alternates, one night with one and the next with the other. This seems as though we both would be satisfied, but we are not. We feel a jealousy that this young man should care as much for one as the other.

TIDDLES AND WINKS. Don't be silly! The young man evidently is not in love with either of you, and to let such a foolish thing as jealousy break up the friendship between you girls is absurd. Just enjoy the friendship of the young man and let it go at that. Jealousy is too ugly a thing to find a place in the heart of a young girl, for it spoils her disposition and chances for happiness.

A German, crazed by heat, climbed a church spire at Leipzig and began to sing jazz. You have to be that way to sing it properly. —Uhrichsville Chronicle.

High School Institute Closes at Wheeling

Teachers of Panhandle District Hear Talks by Number of State Educators.

Addressees by West Virginia high school officials and educators yesterday concluded a three-day Panhandle district high school teachers' institute which opened Monday at the Wheeling high school. The meeting, which was attended by approximately 150 instructors was declared one of the most successful ever held.

Opening the program yesterday morning, W. E. Buckley, principal of the Fairmont state normal school, spoke urging the teachers to strive to better their teaching ability. Self satisfaction was pointed out by Buckley as one of the greatest causes of teachers not endeavoring to better themselves.

Instructors should know their subject and how to teach them and should stop, check up on themselves and notice their errors in order to become better teachers, added Buckley.

Robert Clark, state supervisor of teacher training, illustrated the plan by which the state association will advance certificates to teachers in schools throughout West Virginia. A general knowledge of education is the first requirement of anyone applying for a teaching position, according to Clark. Included in this is not only a comprehensive knowledge of the subject in which the teacher will specialize but of all courses.

A new program has been arranged in West Virginia this year under which all new teachers must qualify and receive certificates. Any teacher who has been in the profession prior to this year and have their teaching certificates covering a five year period will not be required to qualify in the new program although they are welcome to do so if they desire, concluded Clark.

"What is Economics?" was the topic of a talk given by Miss Lena M. Charter, state supervisor of home economics in which she brought out the developments of the home economics course and the benefits which have been derived from it by the students. Each year new branches are being added to the prescribed courses in this subject to develop a girl in the art of present day home life.

Necessity of physical education for teachers throughout West Virginia was stressed by Melville Stewart, state superintendent of physical training. In many schools the teachers in charge of the physical culture course have never had any training in this kind of work, declared Stewart. Physical education is just as important to the student as any of his academic courses, according to the speaker.

Beginning next year a physical education course will be included in the program for teachers and they will be required to have four hours of physical education work and two hours of health work per week to qualify for their certificate, stated Mr. Stewart.

Professor E. S. Maclin, head of the department of industrial education at West Virginia university, concluded the institute with a talk on "Vocational Guidance," in which he stressed the importance of the course. A series of questions propounded by Prof. Maclin to those in the group of teachers who had had experience in teaching vocational guidance brought out several different methods of instruction. The text book and visits to factories were said to be two of the best means of teaching this subject, according to the state university professor.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AT HAYWARD HOME

Mrs. Howard Hayward entertained Monday afternoon in honor of the tenth birthday of her daughter, Lorna Pauline, in her home in Louisiana avenue. The afternoon was spent in games and guessing contests after which lunch was served.

Those present were: Louise Miller, Marie Dungan, Phyllis and Jean Webster, Evelyn and Hilda Dean Owens, Geraldine Peddicord and Lana and Junior Hayward.

Miss Hayward received a number of gifts.

CHESTER MAN IS BANKRUPT

Austin G. Floyd, Chester merchant, was named a bankrupt in an involuntary petition filed yesterday at the office of the United States district court in Wheeling.

The petition had been originally sent to Elkins, and the matter was referred to Referee Russell G. Nesbitt for hearing. No schedules have been filed in the case.

The Arbutnot-Stephenson company, H. Childs and company, and the Imperial Ice Cream company, all of Pittsburgh, and the First National Bank of Chester, are the petitioners.

No date for a hearing in the case has yet been named, as Referee Nesbitt is on a vacation trip in the east.

LEGION MEETING AT FAIRMONT

Legionnaires from all sections of West Virginia will attend the annual convention of the American Legion which will be held at Fairmont on September 3, 4 and 5.

parade that will be held on the opening day. Because that day also will be labor day when various industries will suspend operations for the day, the committee on arrangements expects thousands to participate in or witness the parade who otherwise would be unable to attend.

As an inducement to all Legion members, a special railroad rate has been granted over all lines and arrangements have also been made to take care of automobiles of visiting Legionnaires and their friends.

Among speakers secured for the convention are the Rev. Gill R. Wilson, national chaplain; Major General Charles P. Summerall, Paul R. Younts, national vice-commander of the American Legion and Governor Howard M. Gore.

Mission Unit Meets Tonight.
Members of the Women's Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be entertained tonight in the home of Mrs. Harry Springer in Indiana avenue.

Trade Board Meets Tonight.
Members of the Board of Trade will be tendered a banquet tonight by directors of the organization in the municipal building in Carolina avenue. The affair will precede the business meeting.

Returns to College.
Charles Ray Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parker, of Mineral Springs, has returned to Ann Arbor, Mich., where he will resume his college studies.

A company with $150,000,000 capitalization is being organized to take over most of the cable and wireless systems of Great Britain.

Beautiful New Hats Arriving—Remarkably Low Priced At

$1.85

Fascinating models that fit close to the head, some with brims, if they can be called such—yet there's both small and large head sizes. Rich materials including Velvets, Felt, Velvet and Satin combinations give them their smartness—all new fall shades. —Erlanger's Millinery Section.
